The Democratic party in New York is on a bust.

The Republicans are making some good nominations this year. Good nominations are half the battle.

We can fathom the motives of this still hunt on the part of Jenkins and his party. When the campaign is over, and Jenkins comes within about 15,000 votes of an election, he can then say, and very truly, too, that he wasn't running.

It is about time for the Democrats to get another candidate for Governor. Mitchell was on the ticket about ten days, Jenkins about ten, now why wouldn't it be a fair thing to give it to J. P. C. Cottrell for ten days? What few honors the Democrats have for disposal, they should pass around.

The Tilden battle cry in New York: Down with reform boys and up with barrel. And we'll rally round the barrel boys. Kally once again, shouting the battle cry of trait and (Tilden).

This is not exactly good meter or excellent rhyme, but it is the Democratic sentiment.

Chalmers, Confederate member of Congress, and the leader in the Fort Pillow massacre, publishes a card to the effect that to punish for the assassination of Judge Chisolm and his family, would be to destroy the civil liberty of the Southern people. That receives a low amen from the Northern Democrats.

We have no faith in Gorman's statement that he is as good a Republican as ever. When he could no longer be Secretary of the United States Senate, he became sour and at once found his way among the Greenbackers. He then went to California and joined the Honorable Blisks in the hope that the Blisks would win and in that event he would become a prominent candidate for United States Senator. But the Blisks were defeated, and now prodigious like, Gorman wants to return to his old political home. Gorman is politically dishonest. He wants office and he is for any party which will give it to him.

The Ractine New Deal is a spicy and interesting paper, but we could never satisfactorily account for its Greenback proclivities. Will you be candid, Colonel Utley, and tell us just why you turned Greenbacker?—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

If Colonel Utley should answer the Commonwealth's question candidly, he would say that he turned Greenbacker because he was not reappointed postmaster. Had the Colonel been kept in some office right along, he would have been one of the stalwarts to-day. Some men desert their party when they can no longer use it for their own selfish purposes, and Colonel Utley is one of them. Did you ever hear of a man deserting his party while holding a good office? Never.

Ten days ago the Chicago Times sent a special correspondent to Yazoo City to investigate the murder of Dixon, and to write that "pure nothing but facts. Story wanted the 'true inwardness' of the assassination, and incurred considerable expense to obtain it. On Thursday morning the special correspondence was published. The details of the murder were given, the character of the victim and the standing of the murderer were also given. The correspondent was compelled to say that it was a cowardly political murder, and was committed for no other reason than that Dixon presumed to run for sheriff against Barksdale. This was the offense, and for this he sacrificed his life. The correspondent reported the condition of things in that county as being fully as bad as they had been represented by the press reports.

Captain E. E. Woodman, of the Baraboo Republic, who has been nominated for State Senator by Republicans of Sauk county, formerly resided in Janesville, and at one time was principal of the high school, of which institution he is a graduate. He is a thorough scholar, and a true gentleman, and will dignify the Senate as much as any man the Republicans could have nominated. In 1890, he with others, organized the Janesville Zouaves, and was commissioned Captain, which position he filled with honor to himself and great credit to his company. In the fall of 1861 the Zouaves joined the 13th regiment for the war, and Captain Woodman served in that corps until the close of the Rebellion. Captain Woodman is now in the prime of life, and his many friends hereabouts will be pleased to see him in the State Senate, a place no one is better qualified to fill. His election is sure.

THE PRESIDENT.

An Enthusiastic Welcome at Neosho Falls, Kansas.

NEOSHO FALLS, Kan., Sept. 25—This comparatively unimportant place was thronged to-day by a crowd of not less than 12,000 people, who had assembled here to attend the fifth annual district fair of this locality, to welcome the President and General Sherman, whose coming had been extensively advertised. Soon after 10 o'clock the distinguished visitors disembarked from the train and proceeded to the fair ground a mile distant in carriages. The President and General Sherman were escorted by the Capital Guards of Topeka, headed by the band of the Sixteenth Infantry and a company of boys, less than 12 years old, in the uniform of zouaves.

The grounds were handsomely decorated and ornamented with various productions of the State, artistically and tastefully arranged. At the entrance of the grounds was an arch through which the carriages passed, erected with great labor, expense, and artistic effect, and ornamented with the products of the farm.

The Hon. John R. Goodin, in a brief speech, extended a welcome to the President on behalf of the Fair Association. He was followed by Governor St. John, who delivered the address.

CONFLAGRATION.

The Town of Carroll, Iowa, Almost Wiped Out of Existence—Loss, $200,000.

CARROLL, Iowa, Sept. 25—One of the most destructive fires that ever occurred in Western Iowa devastated Carroll this morning. The fire originated in Schnapman's saloon about 4 o'clock, and consumed the entire business portion of the town—over thirty business houses, six lawyers and doctors' offices, the Presbyterian Church, the Bank of Carroll, Burke's Hotel, a livery stable, fifteen shops and dwelling houses, and four saloons and other buildings. The loss is estimated at $200,000, partially covered by insurance in Jones & Macomber's agency, $35,000 of which is distributed among the following companies: Home, of New York; North America, Traders, Phoenix, of Brooklyn, Springfield Fire and Marine, Amazon Fire Association, of Philadelphia, State of Des Moines. Rebuilding has already commenced.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 28—A fertilizer manufactory of A. S. Schendel, at Brookfield Junction, Waukesha county was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The establishment was built a year ago last spring at a cost of about $65,000. No insurance as far as can be learned. The manufactory had been an object of complaint since it went into operation, and incendiarism is therefore suspected. The manufactory was just being stocked for winter work.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Terrible Calamity From the Explosion of a Kerosene Lamp.

BATTLE CREEK, Sept. 25—A terrible calamity occurred last night about thirteen miles northeast of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Long, living on section 31, in the town of Lee, put their three children to bed and went to prayer meeting. They had been absent but a short time when Lambert Bates, one of the neighbors, discovered that the house was on fire. A number of other neighbors discovered the fire about the same time and hastened to the scene. The house burned very rapidly, and when the neighbors arrived it was a mass of flames. Mr. Bates broke in the front door, but was unable to enter the building on account of the intense heat. Reaching in as far as he could he succeeded in getting hold of the little bed upon which one of the little children, a little 3-year-old girl, was lying, and pulled it through the door. The girl was insensible, and would have died in a few minutes. Prompt measures succeeded in saving her, but she is yet very weak. The other two children perished in the flames. They were both boys, one named Frank, about 7 years old, and one about 2, named Henry. The bodies of the smaller child was almost wholly consumed, and the other was reduced to a helpless mass of flesh. The house, together with all its contents, was destroyed. The fire is supposed to have caught from the explosion of a kerosene lamp that was left burning. The unhappy parents are nearly crazed with grief.

PURCHASED.

FOND DU LAC, Sept. 25—The right of way, franchise and privileges of the Sheboygan and Fond du Lac Railway, running from Sheboygan to Princeton, were this evening purchased by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. The transfer was made at the general office of the Sheboygan and Fond du Lac road in this city. The officers of the road are Albert Keep, president, J. H. Howe, B. C. Cook, Maryn Haight, C. C. Wheeler, J. B. Reddick, M. Kirkman, directors. The purchase was received after the road started at once on a tour of inspection over the line.

KEARNEY CALLS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25—It may be mentioned that his Majesty Dennis Kearney, Emperor by grace of the sand-lot, sent up his card at 9 o'clock this morning, and then again at 10 o'clock, but failed to be received. Grant sent down word on both occasions that he regretted being engaged.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TRAVELER.

A Brief Recapitulation of General Grant's Tour Around the World.
General Grant left the United States on a tour around the world on May 17, 1878, by the Steamship Idiparis, from Philadelphia for Liverpool, being escorted down the Delaware by officers of the city and national government. He arrived at Liverpool on May 27—the hospitalities of the city being extended to him by the Mayor. At Manchester he received the like courtesy, and on his arrival in London he was tendered receptions at which members of the royal family were present. Military and political clubs made him an honorary member, and the honorary degree of D. C. L. was conferred upon him by the Oxford University. The freedom of the city of London was next presented to him, after which he visited France, and then made a round of the English provincial towns, leaving for France on the 24th of October. Banquets were given him by President McMahon, the American residents in Paris, and Emile de Girardin. Visits were next made to Gibraltar, Algiers, Constantinople, Athens, Naples and points in Southern Italy. On January 1, 1878, he sailed from Malta for Egypt and the Nile, visiting the Khedive at Cairo; then traveling to Constantinople and from thence to Athens, where he and Mrs. Grant were formally presented to the King and Queen of Greece. A visit was next made to Rome, where the General, his wife and son Joseph were presented to the Pope by Cardinal McCloskey. After a trip through Holland, Germany, Scandinavia, and then Russia. At St. Petersburg the General had an audience with the Emperor Alexander. The rest of the year was spent in a tour of Austria, Spain and Portugal, and a third visit to Paris. The long-delayed trip to Ireland followed, but although the ex-President was enthusiastically greeted at Dublin, Belfast, and other points, the reception, as a whole was not cordial, and the visit was made as brief as possible. A farewell visit was made to Paris, and a grand dinner was given at the Palace d'Elise by President McMahon. On the 23rd of January, 1879, General Grant and party embarked at Marseilles for India. Every where throughout that country the ex-President was received with the most distinguished attention and consideration. Sam was next visited, the King bestowing many honors upon the General. China was the next point of travel, a feature of the visit being the presentation of an address relative to the subject of the Russo-Japanese war, both sides of the Loochoo controversy having been laid before him by Prince Kung, of China, and the Japanese authorities. On the 31st of September, after a stay in Japan of two months, General Grant sailed from Yokohama, on the steamer, City of Tokio, for San Francisco.

A STORY OF A MARTYR.

A Father's Heroism to Screen His Son's Crime.

Not a great while since a prominent physician of Denver, Colorado, was called to attend a patient in the last stages of what appeared to be consumption, but which, upon examination, proved to be simply a wearing away of life—a decay of the energies of mind and body. Although well supplied with money, the stranger was seemingly without friends or relatives. He wrote no letters and received none. An alien to the tenderness and charities which sanctify the affections, he seemed to be drifting out of the world, in which, for him all the flowers of the heart had perished—a bleak and desolate old man hastening out of the sunshine into the winter of the grave. After making a thorough examination of the case, the doctor told him that although he could find no organized disease, yet he was dying.

"I know it," replied the patient. "But have you no idea what brought you to this plight?" inquired the interested man of science. "It is a curious phenomena. You have heard a great deal about cases like mine—more as a visionary exaggeration of the fancy than as an actual occurrence—but strange as it may appear, I am dying, as you say—of a broken heart."

"You surprise me."

"Yes, I surprise myself. I did not come to your healing-giving climate as others do—in search of a longer lease of life—but to die in peace and alone."

"But have you no friends?" asked the doctor.

"None that I can claim. My past is sealed with the shadow of a crime, and over my nameless grave not even a memory must hover. I am already dead to all who ever knew my name."

"You say you are a criminal?" pursued the doctor.

"No, I am none. But I assume the stigma to shield another."

"And that other?"

"Was my son."

"What was the nature of the crime?"

The physician's curiosity was got the better of his prudence. The shadows of twilight were falling around them. Through the open window streamed the soft brilliance of the dying day. Clouds of amethyst and purple floated lazily on the far-off hills. But in the chamber where the fevered breath was drawn quick and short there was a hushed stillness which seemed in keeping with the ghostly shadows.

"It was murder!"

"And was fixed on you?"

"On me—I assumed it, and then escaped—but not to evade the vengeance of the law, but to spare to him I loved the stigma of a felon's death."

"How long ago was this?"

"Twelve years."

"And you have been a wanderer ever since?"

"Ever since."

The feeble pulse was fluttering—the glazing eyes sheathed under waken lids, and the shattered form was growing rigid momentarily.

"Will you tell me no more?" whispered the physician.

"It is all I have to tell."

The next instant the man was dead. He had kept his secret and sacrificed his life in keeping it.

HEAD-QUARTERS!

BRIEFLETS.
—Much talk, little lynch.
—The Temple of Honor to night.
—The Hadley case is occupying the attention of Justice Prichard to day.
—Burglars have been quiet for a week or so. Hope they will keep so, but the doors should be bolted just the same.
—The sale of St. Patrick's church was set for yesterday afternoon, but was postponed for thirty days, during which time efforts will be made to provide for the debt.
—E. A. Hull, of Lima, was yesterday afternoon fined $50 and costs, amounting to about $30 more, for exposure of person. An appeal was taken to the Circuit Court.

—Midshipman Frank Bostwick arrived last evening from the East, and will remain here over Sunday, and will then depart for California where he will await orders. He is looking first rate and is as happy as a newly married man with bright prospects ought to be. He hopes to be stationed on the Pacific coast, but this is of course uncertain until the orders come.

—Hugh McGavitt, who lives on the Beloit road, was on a late last night, caused by drink. Constable Drake found him near the Central school building with a crowd about him, and tried to get him to go home. McGavitt wouldn't, and proceeded to abuse the officer and struck him with his cane a heavy blow across the head. Drake collared him and took him to jail, and this morning he was penitent. He was assessed the usual fine, and went his way.

—Hon. Simon B. Conover and wife, of Florida, and Hon. Chas. G. Williams and family, with whom they have been visiting for a few days went yesterday to Oshkosh to attend the wedding last evening of Miss Sawyer, daughter of Hon. Philetus Sawyer, and Mr. H. G. White, of New York. From the description of the toasts as given in the Milwaukee Sentinel, we notice that Mrs. Conover appeared in black satin and diamonds; Mrs. Williams in emerald velvet and brocade silk, duchesse lace, diamonds, and her daughter, Miss Kittie Williams, in blue broadcloth silk.

—The Baptist church choir has now been organized for the coming year, and will consist of a quartet consisting of Dr. Newman, tenor, Miss Dolly Patten, soprano, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, alto, and D. D. Bennett, baritone, with Miss Ada Pond as organist. It is designed to have this quartet lead, and to encourage congregational singing as much as possible. A large number of new books have been placed in the pews for the use of the congregation. They contain all the old tunes, and it is planned to have such familiar ones selected that all may join with the choir in this part of the worship. Sensible.

—Yesterday Frank Bond was driving his horse at a lively gait along Main street. At the same time Clark & Co.'s delivery horse and wagon had just backed up to a house, and the driver had gone inside with a sack of flour leaving the horse unattended. As Bond's fast stepper came rushing by, the delivery horse got frightened, and started on the run, and for a few minutes there was a lively race. Bond's horse is said to have crowded Clark's horse off the course, and the delivery wagon was wrecked by coming against a post. The wagon was a new one, costing about sixty dollars. Bond was yesterday afternoon arrested and fined $3 and costs, for fast driving, and to-day Clark & Co.'s driver was arrested and fined $1 and costs for allowing his horse to stand unattended. Clark & Co. have given notice that they will commence a suit to recover damages to the wagon, claiming that it was Bond's fault. So the end is not yet.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 59 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m., to-day at 43 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m., at 42 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m., at 69 degrees above. Cloudy.
The indications to-day are, generally clear weather, followed by increasing cloudiness, warmer southerly winds, and falling barometer.

AN ELEGANT STABLE.

Mr. A. Ludlow, of Monroe, has just finished a horse and carriage barn which is probably the finest in the State. It is 60 by 44 feet, and cost over $6,000. The building is a two-story one, of white brick, with a self-supporting slate roof. It has all the modern improvements, and is finished in elegant style, the posts being of black walnut, and the stalls, doors, etc., of a beautiful grained red oak. By way of opening, he gave, last night, an elegant party to which 800 guests were invited, and over 600 were present. Two bands were present, and tarantined plenty of good music. The upper story was used for dancing, and an elegant supper was spread below, of which the many guests partook. The whole affair was highly creditable to Mr. Ludlow's generosity, and everything was done by himself, wife, and daughter, to make the occasion an enjoyable one, and they certainly succeeded. Mr. Ludlow is one of Green county's wealthiest men, and no one stands higher in the estimation and good will of its citizens than he.

FUNERAL OF SANDY WHITE.

The funeral of little Sandy White yesterday called together a large number of sorrowing and sympathizing friends, and was one of the most touching occasions of the kind ever held in this county. The little fellow lay in a beautiful casket which bore a silver plate "Our Darling," while the brightness of flowers in wreaths and crosses lighted somewhat the gloom, and betokened the cheering hope of a happier beyond. The little face looked as the light in sleep, and was lovely indeed in death. Rev. Mr. May, pastor of the Congregational church at Fulton, read the nineteenth psalm and spoke a brief concerning the sad event which had thus called them together. He took advantage of the occasion to give some wholesome truths concerning the duties of society and the responsibility of parents. Appropriate singing formed a part of the services. Mrs. Theodore Raymond leading. The remains were taken to the cemetery near by and there tenderly laid away to rest. None who participated in or attended the services, will ever forget the strange impressiveness and tender solemnity of the occasion.

MORE ABOUT THE MURDER.

How the Boy-Friend Sleeps and Eats, and Further Facts About His Terrible Crime.

George Baumgarten, the boy murderer, rested well last night in his new lodging place in jail. He takes his meals with indications of a hearty appetite, and the fear of being mobbed seems to lessen as the hours go by and no trouble arises. The officers who have had him in charge and who have had a better opportunity to watch his movements and more chance to talk with him than anyone else, laugh at the idea of his being a demented, half-witted idiot. He conducts himself much as any ordinary sort of a boy would do, who is laboring under such a pressure of guilt and such a whirl of excitement.

The mob talk seems to be dying out somewhat, although the feeling in the vicinity of the murder is intense yet. The foolish reports that have been current concerning several hundred men coming from Elgerton yesterday afternoon, and other kindred stories, have been found to be so utterly without foundation as to lead intelligent people to distrust the reports about any lynching being intended or planned. It is true that when the train came through Elgerton night before last, there were several hundred people gathered at the depot, mainly from curiosity, but some intensely excited and ready for any work. The train was searched for the murderer and had been on board there might have been some violence shown.

Baumgarten will probably not be brought up for examination before next week, when he will appear before Justice Brooks and will probably waive examination.

There seems to be still great mystery as to what prompted him to do the deed. A gentleman who was in the city yesterday, and who had known the prisoner from boyhood up, says that young Baumgarten delighted, when a boy, in torturing all sorts of animals, skinning cats alive, and doing like horrible things, which would indicate that he is of a Pomeroy turn of mind.

Some of the immediate relatives of the murdered child believe that the crime was premeditated. It is related that on the night previous to the murder Mr. White was away from home; and Mrs. White had the boy sleep with her, instead of in his usual bed in another room, as he was ailing and felt badly. In the night she heard a noise and getting up found Baumgarten up and going toward the room where the boy generally slept. She asked him what the matter was, and he said "Oh nothing," and then making some excuse went back to bed. Some think from this that he intended to murder the boy that night. The statement is given on the authority of one who heard it from the family.

At the gathering at the funeral of the victim yesterday there was evidently an intense feeling, but few spoke concerning any lynching. Some remarked that he ought to be hung, but there seemed much less excitement than on the day previous.

OBITUARY.

MOSES L. BURDICK.

Last night about half past ten o'clock Moses L. Burdick, well known by his friends as Deacon Burdick, died in this city at the home of his son-in-law Mr. S. A. Carey. For many years he has been feeble in health, but since last April it has been markedly noticeable that he was failing fast. His troubles were dropsical in their nature. For three weeks past, his family physician Dr. Judd, has considered him past all hope of recovery, so that the arrival of the dread hour was not altogether unlooked for, still it proved a heavy blow, and in the sorrow thus caused, not only the family, but a large circle of friends will share.

Mr. Burdick was born in Grafton, New York, in 1801, and was in his seventy-fifth year when death overtook him. He came to Wisconsin in 1850, and settled in the town of Rock, where he remained until 1865, when he moved to Afion, where he resided until the death of his wife, in April, 1872, since which time he has made his home with his children, three of whom live in this county—Mrs. H. C. Wells, of La Prairie, Mrs. S. A. Carey, of this city, and Mr. E. C. Burdick, of Johnston Center. He leaves two other children—Mr. M. W. Burdick, of Hooesick Falls, New York, and Mrs. C. O. Clark, of Belmont, Iowa. Mr. Burdick was for about fifty years a constant member and earnest worker in the Baptist church. He was one of the founders of the church at Afion, and was elected as one of its Deacons early in the history of that organization, a position to which he always did honor. In fact wherever he was placed he so fulfilled his mission in life as to command the respect and esteem of all, and he held the confidence of the community to the very last, all looking on him as a true man with a warm heart. He contented himself with his agricultural pursuits and with his trade as mason, following that whenever health permitted, and in his humble quiet way extended an influence ever for good. He had no political aspirations, but in accordance with the almost unanimous desire of his townsmen he served as Clerk for the town of Rock for twenty-two consecutive years, and was even then parted with only on account of his removal elsewhere.

He was the only surviving brother of Col. Z. P. Burdick, who is now left as the only surviving one of twelve children. To all the immediate relatives upon whom falls so heavily the death of their much respected citizen, the sympathies of a large portion of the community will be extended. The funeral is to be held to-morrow. Prayer will be offered at the house of Mr. Carey at 10 o'clock, and the remains will then be taken to Afion where services are to be held in the Baptist church at 1 o'clock, and the remains interred.

STAMP YOUR CHECKS.

A quite prevalent neglect, rather than violation, of one section of the revenue law, needs touching up. The law requires that each check on a bank, no matter what the amount, must have a two-cent revenue stamp upon it. Many draw checks without stamping them, and leave it to the banks to put the stamps on and charge them up to their account's. This relieves the bank of all liability, but it does not let out the man who draws the check. The banks furnish checks already stamped, for just the cost of the stamps, and it is a much safer way to use these, and be sure there is a stamp on the check before it passes from the hands of the signer. If not, some one who may have some little spare to satisfy may complain, and if so there is no way of evading $50 fine for each and every offense. Ed. Coe, of the Whitewater Register got caught in this way the other day, and his experience should prove a warning. We let him tell it in his own words:

Yesterday afternoon a warrant from U. S. Court Commissioner Ryan, of Milwaukee, was served on the editor of this paper to appear and answer to the charge of violating the Revenue laws. The specific offense was that of giving a check on the First National Bank for $5.00 without putting a two-cent revenue stamp thereon. The complaint was made by T. H. Kyle of this place. The check had been given to Mr. Fonda of our office; he took it into Kyle's store after banking hours and bought some goods, giving the check in payment. On the 17th Kyle made complaint and the result was the visit to Whitewater of the very gentlemanly Dept. U. S. Marshal, Mr. Simpson, with the warrant as before mentioned.

The offense is but a technical one, as all our checks are stamped and canceled at Bank before payment, and the cost of stamps charged to our account. Fully half the business men of the place give their checks the same way. We have done it habitually and under the supposition that it was a sufficient compliance with the law to request the bank officers to stamp and cancel the checks as they came in.

Of course Kyle's object in turning informer in this case was to make us trouble and expense, though why he should wish to do so is beyond our comprehension. As there are many others liable in the same way as we are, we suggest that they be on their guard hereafter and not put themselves in the power of parties who may be prompted by malice and petty spite to do them an injury.

AVON.

—The late frosts did some damage to the tobacco crop in this vicinity. Winter wheat has proved a success this year, yielding about 35 bushels per acre. Oats are not a full crop, owing to the dry weather in the spring; they will average 35 to 40 bushels. Rye from 13 to 15 bushels. The prospect for the corn crop is good.

The following is the report of the Avon cheese factory for the month ending September 15th:

Amount of cheese made during the month of Sept., lbs. 4000
Amount of cheese on hand at close, lbs. 4000
Average price per lb. 10¢

Wm. Roth, our cheese maker, thinks, as the price of cheese has advanced, the factory will run until the last of October.

—Mr. Henry P. Johnson, of Beloit, with workmen, is now busily engaged repairing our mill. Mr. Johnson states that everything will be in running order by the 25th inst., when he will be ready to attend to the patronage of the mill's former customers.

—The Missionary concert, held by the M. E. Sunday school, on the evening of the 14th, although not very remunerative, was pronounced, by all that attended it a success.

—The church organ bought for the M. E. church, is a fine one and all are well satisfied with it. It was bought of Waters & Co. New York, through Mr. B. W. Beeler, of Broadhead.

—Rev. Mr. Sweet, of Juda, Wisconsin, fill the desk of Rev. G. W. Lincoln at our Baptist church last Sabbath.

—Rev. D. A. Sanborn, of the Orfordville charge, preached his farewell sermon here last Sabbath evening. The Elder will leave a good many warm friends in Avon.

—Miss Hattie Gunn has closed her school in Newark township, and is now at home.

—Mr. A. B. Carpenter, of Beloit, has bought the Charles Woolsey property in this village, and Mr. A. B. Carpenter will move in next week.

—W. N. Gunn, in company with Ward Lacy, left last Wednesday for Rush Medical College, Chicago, where they will spend the coming winter.

RICH SPECULATIONS.

A brakeman on a Western railroad placed $50 in a combination, which turned a profit of 3% per cent, equal to $37.50 per hundred shares, netting a profit of $193.75, in addition to the $50 invested. A conductor made $1,176.24 in two combinations. The superintendent of an Eastern railway made $19,210.13 in three combinations. Others have also made large profits. This system of stock speculation consolidates the interests of thousands into one whole, dividing the profits pro rata every thirty days. The combinations handled with the best skill and experience, attain great success in the stock market. From $25 to $10,000 can thus be invested with vast advantage.
